

Commitment to Water Stewardship

Liquats Vegetals is a leading company in the plant-based beverage sector since 1991. We work to drive the transition towards a plant-based, healthy, and sustainable food model to contribute to people's well-being and balance with the planet.

Our mission is to produce distinctive plant-based foods through our own knowledge and technological processes, using high-quality raw materials. We are in Viladrau because of the quality of the water, a fundamental ingredient in our products.

The efficient, rational, and sustainable use of water resources is necessary to provide health, quality of life, and economic and social development to the citizens of any country.

In line with these principles and with the commitment to good water stewardship, Liquats has a department responsible for water governance, currently made up of the person responsible for the Water Cycle Department and a water engineer.

Our commitment is to work to ensure a good water balance in the basin, safeguard water quality, sanitation, and hygiene, and consider the areas and stakeholder groups related to water.

In this sense, we work to develop programs to optimize water consumption in the plant and use it responsibly, collaborate with stakeholders to ensure the resource throughout the basin, reduce risks associated with water use, and promote activities related to proper water management. Likewise, we will take the necessary measures to ensure compliance with legal requirements and work together on the common challenges of the basin related to water.

The General Management of Liquats establishes that this commitment is known and implemented by all members of the company. You can contact the Water Cycle Department through the contact form at liquats@liquats.com.
